A Day of Support and Solidarity:

Friday

May 26, 2006

06:00 - 22:00

May 26, 2006 will mark 280 days that our fellow AMFA members have been on strike against Northwest Airlines. To show our continued support for these courageous men and women, we are holding a national day of picketing at the nation's busiest airports. All labor groups and activists are invited to attend and demonstrate that these attacks on the workers will not be tolerated.

The tactics being employed by Northwest Airlines are a direct attack on our craft and on our profession. If Northwest ultimately succeeds in outsourcing the majority of their maintenance operations, the rest of the industry will try to emulate it, thereby putting every one of our careers in jeopardy.

Please join the NWA/AMFA strikers on the picket line to show Northwest Airlines and the rest of the industry that there is a real price to pay for carriers who choose to attack their workers rather than work with them.

Friends, family, and neighbors are all welcome.

Please contact Brian McKeever at 650-826-1407 for details and information on where and when to picket here in San Francisco.
